ANNOUNCEMENTS

AT BROADWAY THEATER. Mistake Ku Klux Klan for Ghosts.

A ludicreus scene in The Clausman, which will come to the Broadway theater on Monday, Sept. 27, is one where a couple of darkies, detailed to spy on the Ku Klux Klan, report their exthe Ku Klux Klan, report their ex-periences. "Dey wunn't Ku Klux, dey wus geosts!" whisper the awe-strick-en coons. "Dey ris up out of de ground, mounted white horses an salled char fru' de air right up to de sky!" It is impossible to convince these black brothers with their wobbly knees and chattering teeth that the weird night riders are mortal men.

BREED THEATER.

"A Royal Outcast," Thrilling Arcadian Story.

Royal Outcast is the thrilling romantic story of the days of g Francis the Fourth, now being King Francis the Fourth, now being exhibited at the Breed theater daily, to delighted audiences. The interesting story of the picture drama deals with the abduction of the heir-apparent, and the subsequent concealing of him by the peasants, who found him floatand the subsequent concealing of film by the peasants, who found him floating in an open boat, in a nearby river. Seven years elapse, and the peasants are seen at the Arcadian captial, selling their wares, when they are confronted by a sign, offering a reward for the return of the heir excitement is noticed by a courier of the king, and he follows them to their home, and secures the young Clarence. He is allowed the company of his foster parents, the peasants, and the king dying, forces the heir into the kingdom, when he gloss the poor peasants who succored him good positions in the court and all ands happilly. There is an exceptional film this week that shows the dances of all nations, including Brittany, China, Caucasian, Soudan, Japan, Caria, Austria, Bulgaria, French, Spain and Mozambique, all of which are selected from the most expert exponents of national dances of the different countries. As usual, Miss Alwin delighted the large audiences ferent countries. As usual, Miss Al-vin delighted the large audiences with her refined and artistic singing, many encores.

Systematic Criminals,

An alleged pickpocket who was picked up by the police in this city Sunday had in his pocket a list of the leading agricultural fairs to be held in New England this fall. It is more than likely that the police are correct in their assumption that this list was a guide for the operations of the sup-posed pickpocket. It is a difficult mat-ter for the police to master such syster for the police to master such sys-tematic criminals and it is more than likely that a creditable capture has been made in the man now held un-der suspicion of being a pickpocket. der suspicion of being a pickpocket. The man who commits crime in a misguided moment gives the authorities some cause for leniency, but the person who goes about thievery in the manner credited to the man who has just been arrested on suspicion can put up no worthy plea for mercy. If the local police have gathered in a systematic criminal we have reason to commend the officers for the alertness they have shown. The systematic criminal is probably learning that it is unwise for him to venture into New Haven.—New Haven Palladium.

Alaskan Moonshine.

Up here in Alaska the moon rises in the south and sets in the north. Its beams are liquid and they enamel the landscape with a porcelain loveliness. It casts a spell more potent than e'er did the magicians of the east. Under its wizardry the rocks turn to silver and the brown old mountains are conjured into giant pearls. True wealth exists in the mind, and whoever beholds an Alaskan moonlight is thrice hundred times a millionaire.-Ketchikan Miner.

Profitable Philosophy.

Benjamin Franklin, premier printer and philosopher, when 16 read Tom Tryon's vegetable vagary, became a convert and thought fishing murder, but a nosey curlosity showed him little fish in the stomach of big fish. Franklin said if big fish eat little ones, it seems not wrong to eat big that they be graceful and pleasing fish; also philosophized how conveniin doing it, which is itself another form ent was reason, for it provides a good of duty.-John Ruskin. excuse and s, reason for anything you want to do .-- New York Press.

Unlucky Days.

There has been a belief in unlucky days as far back as there is any record. The belief has been, and probably now is, universal. The Saxon calendars allow 24 evil days in 365. Calendars drawn up in the reign of Henry VI. of England reckon 32. There are only two in June, the seventh and the fifteenth. John Aubrey has much to say about unlucky days in his Miscel- it nourished.—Iom Hood.

Inviting the Whole Family. Governor Marshall of Indiana sets measure for distinguished men in efusing to accept the invitation to go long on the boat trip to New Orcans, with the lakes-to-gulf deep waor ways association. His wife is not invited because there are no accommodations aboard the boat for the women folks. Hence, the governor will not go. In view of this attitude before the country, what will other eminent citizens do when confronted with invitations to attend junkets from which the better halves are exchided?

The association should have made wider arrangements. They might wisely perhaps, have followed the example of Harvard university, which will welcome not only 120—count 'em. 120—rollege prosidents at the Lowell inaugural, but will equally welcome the wives and families of these six score leaders. Here, across the Charles, we not the conditions which should have obtained in the lakes-to-gulf deep water ways association. To be sure, there is more room and more food at Harvard than aboard a river boat. But why not two boats? Harvard's dormitory accommodations are presumed to be ample, it is not believed that any of the undergraduates will be obliged to tent on Soldiers' field. It is not feared that the coffee tanks of water coolers of Memorial hall will burst under the added pressure, or that the dusky waiters will fall to keep moving as the 120 presidents and aives I children mass themselves at mea, hours. Harvard invites the family, it is the whole-souled, though the expensive, way. Let the lakes-to-gulf rowd take note hefore they invite any more governors.—Boston Advertiser.

One More Victory for Woman. Jersey justice was neatly side tracked by woman's wit when the wife of a prisoner sentenced to pay a fine offered her baby to the magistrate for security. The prospect of acting as child's nurse caused a hasty recall of the fine. And once more the majesty of the law went down to ignominious defeat before the resources of the Old Age and Efficiency. Of the workmen employed by the Mariborough rural district council for work on the district roads ten of them average 70 years of age, their combined ages being 701 years. Need for Something Positive. Beware of making your moral staple consist of the negative virtues. It is good to abstain, and teach others to abstain, from all that is sinful or hurtful. But making a business of it leads to emaciation of character, unless one feeds largely also on the more nutritious diet of active sympathetic benevolence.-Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Not Forecasting.

"Is it true, Mrs. Thrycewed, that Pres you got your final decree of divorce this morning?" asked the woman reporter, briskly "Final?" naively in-quired the gracious lady; "now, I would not say that—you know, my dear, I may marry again!"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

A Peculiar Situation.

A little old woman came into church late one Sunday and was somewhat flustered when she found some one she did not know in her seat. Leaning over she said to him nervously: "I beg your pardon, sir-but-you are occupewing my pie!"
